A new approach to health benefits with Surest™

UnitedHealthcare’s Surest offers a new approach to health benefits that removes deductibles and provides clear upfront pricing information to people in advance of treatment. As a result, Surest members report improved satisfaction, employers enjoy lower health care costs, and consumers benefit from lower out-of-pocket expenses.¹

How it works

Surest plans seek to simplify how people navigate the health system, while helping improve access to care and making it easier to comparison shop for medical services based on quality measures and upfront prices. Key features of Surest plans include:

No deductibles or coinsurance: Surest plans help remove financial barriers to care with the aim of helping make it easier for members to understand both their coverage and cost before receiving care or making an appointment.

Upfront prices: Surest plans enable members to review single, all-in prices for more than 490 services before receiving care. Based on data-driven results displayed within the Surest app, members may be able to pay less and receive more effective treatments from quality care providers, as determined by national standardized measures.

Higher member satisfaction: For employees enrolled in a Surest plan, the Net Promoter Score® – a key measure of consumer satisfaction – was significantly higher than industry benchmarks.¹

More affordable premiums: Among employers that introduced Surest plans, costs were up to 15% less per member per month compared to high-deductible health plans, while out-of-pocket costs for members were 44% less.¹
